Warm up

No one can whistle a symphony. It takes a whole orchestra to play it.

H.E. LUCCOCK

Vocabulary

Cooperate - to act or work together for a particular purpose, or to be helpful by doing what someone asks you to do

Call it a day - to stop something. This words come from an expression used in the 1800s for when a worker left before their shift was over — “Call it a half-day.” “Call it a day” eventually came into usage to mean ending work

Deal with someone – to talk to someone or meet someone, especially as part of your job

In every society, people cooperate with each other

Your consumers fix your beta product and call it a day

They don't want to deal with someone else

Vocabulary

Deal with something – to take action in order to achieve something or in order to solve a problem

Get on – to have a good relationship, to manage or deal with a situation, especially successfully

Get the ball rolling – means to start something. This words comes from Croquet, where the ball moving indicates the start of the game. Starting a project is an important moment, so you want to be clear when this happens

How do you deal with something like the environment?

Let's just get on the phones and use them to be positive, empower, and protect each other

Let's get the ball rolling on this project

Vocabulary

Innovate – to introduce changes and new ideas

Leadership – the position or fact of being a leader

Relationship – the way in which two or more co-workers behave towards each other

We want to build organizations that can innovate time

At a time like that, you really need good leadership skills

And some of you may have a healthy relationship with deadlines

Vocabulary

Restore – to return something to an earlier good condition or position

To get down to business – to start getting serious about something

To think outside the box – to think unconventionally, creatively and explore new non-conformist ideas

The United Nations says that we will have to restore nature

Once you've created your account, it's time to get down to business

I really think we need to think outside the box for this campaign

Vocabulary

See eye-to-eye – to agree something. A similar expression, “be on the same page,” comes from choirs — you want your singers to refer to the same sheet of music

Support – to agree with and give encouragement to someone or something because you want him, her, or it to succeed

Trust – to believe that someone is good and honest and will not harm you, or that something is safe and reliable

You don't see eye-to-eye anymore

All they need is some help and assistance, just a little support

You're saying that you can trust yourself to handle life's challenges

Get to know

Your processor is faster than mine

This version is more difficult to use than the old version

That screen resolution is much worse than before!

The new monitor was the biggest in the room

His computer is the least expensive

I really like this website. It's the best I've seen

Game

Count the number of used comparisons:

In today's digital world, not only are we more connected personally, we also often have to work together with others from different locations and even different organizations to achieve a common goal.

Teamwork makes the job easier. Someone else is there to help you, catch you and support you. Your team members will see things you didn't and ways to approach a problem you might not have considered. You achieve so much more than you could by yourself.

Teamwork makes the task more fun. You're not alone. But then you have teams from different countries working on a project their country's culture has a major impact on how they see things, how they think and how they communicate.

Every team member has to clearly understand what the team needs to accomplish, why it needs to accomplish that and embrace this direction. Every team needs its "why" to deliver all the benefits of teamwork. This is the best way for outstanding team results.
